

Frank Lloyd Wright Homes At One With Nature

Meet local guide at a convenient location. Day runs approx...8 hours.

Tour Frank Lloyd Wright's most famous home-design, Fallingwater. Literally, built over a waterfall, this home has been named by National Geographic Traveler as one of "Fifty Places of a Lifetime to visit." And on this tour, YOU ARE THERE!

Lunch at an area restaurant offering good food in a unique setting. As time permits a stop can be made at the Visitor Center for Ohiopyle State Park and a view of the Falls on the Youghiogheny River.

Tour a second Wright home located just minutes from Fallingwater. Kentuck Knob was built as a year-round residence and many visitors say they could live here. Kentuck Knob boasts a Wright signature tile and some special concessions gained by the Hagan family for whom it was designed. The setting is nature inspired, one that Wright had in mind when designing the home. An easy tour, all on one floor!
